1. St. Mary’s Interpretive Area: Veterans’ Green
   The St. Mary’s Heritage Conservation District (HCD) represents an important and formative aspect of post World War II construction, planning and development. The construction of the neighbourhood created much-needed housing for WWII veterans. A monument has been installed to honour Kitcheiners veterans. Read the interpretive panels to gain an appreciation of the significance of the HCD, including the history behind the establishment of two housing companies; Warmie Housing Limited (WHL) and Housing Enterprises of Canada Limited (HEC), and the distinguishing characteristics of the building styles.

2. Spadina Road East
   [This is the first storey house on the second of two WHL styles. It is approximately 700 sq. ft. when built, the design is simplistic and compact. The house is identified in the St. Mary’s HCD Plan as a house of particular heritage interest.]

3. Windsor Crescent
   This house and its neighbour at 49 Windsor Crescent are examples of the second of two WHL styles. When constructed, this 1½ storey house with side gable roof and low profile measured a modest 480 sq. ft. While you walk through the district, you will see many houses that are similar to this style.

4. Glen Road
   Glen Road leads you to the heart of the district, and although it does not have a boulevard, it is considerably green. The mature trees stretch over the road giving much needed shade from the summer sun and shelter against the rain.

5. St. Clair Avenue
   This 1½ storey house is an example of one of four HEC styles. The house is constructed of concrete block and features a front porch and gable on the right.

6. Windsor Crescent
   This house and its neighbour at 49 Windsor Crescent are examples of the second of two WHL styles. When constructed, this 1½ storey house with side gable roof and low profile measured a modest 480 sq. ft. While you walk through the district, you will see many houses that are similar to this style.

7. 45 Windsor Crescent
   This house and its neighbour at 49 Windsor Crescent are examples of the second of two WHL styles. When constructed, this 1½ storey house with side gable roof and low profile measured a modest 480 sq. ft. While you walk through the district, you will see many houses that are similar to this style.

8. Glen Road
   Glen Road leads you to the heart of the district, and although it does not have a boulevard, it is considerably green. The mature trees stretch over the road giving much needed shade from the summer sun and shelter against the rain.

9. St. Clair Avenue
   This 1½ storey house is an example of one of four HEC styles. The house is constructed of concrete block and features a front porch and gable on the right.

10. Windsor Crescent
    This house and its neighbour at 49 Windsor Crescent are examples of the second of two WHL styles. When constructed, this 1½ storey house with side gable roof and low profile measured a modest 480 sq. ft. While you walk through the district, you will see many houses that are similar to this style.

11. Glen Road
    Glen Road leads you to the heart of the district, and although it does not have a boulevard, it is considerably green. The mature trees stretch over the road giving much needed shade from the summer sun and shelter against the rain.

12. St. Clair Avenue
    This 1½ storey house is an example of one of four HEC styles. The house is constructed of concrete block and features a front porch and gable on the right.

13. Windsor Crescent
    This house and its neighbour at 49 Windsor Crescent are examples of the second of two WHL styles. When constructed, this 1½ storey house with side gable roof and low profile measured a modest 480 sq. ft. While you walk through the district, you will see many houses that are similar to this style.